ARMY AND NAVY NEWS.

GIFTS TO ARMY OFFICERS.—The army people of Plattsburg Barracks who were anxious to give Colonel G. P. Borden, late of the 5th, and now of the 20th Infantry, and his wife some testimonial on their departure from Plattsburg to their new states. tion in Montana, appear to have erred on the side of discretion. They wrote to Washington recently, asking if they were authorized to present a large and suitably inscribed cup to Colonel and Mrs. Borden, along with certain pleasant remarks Borden, along with certain pleasant prompted by the occasion and in celebration of the fact that the officer was closing nearly forty years of service in the military establishment. The question at once became of importance, and went its way through the various military channels in New-York and Washington, including the Judge Advo-York and Washington and the General Staff. It has been solemnly declared, now that the question was been saked, that the officers and their wives at Platts-burg Barracks cannot make any present to Colonel Borden and his wife, and this decision has been communicated to the people most interested. At the same time the practice of giving testimonials of all sorigs and of all values continues at the army posts, and no one interferes much with it. The original order was well enough in its way, army officers say, since it put a stop to what was becoming an alarming and expensive habit of giving valuable things to departing officers, especially among the soldiers, who felt that they could not refuse to take part in such demonstrations of friendliness. At the same time Secretary Root permitted an act of gracefulness when he left the Cabinet, and the bureau chiefs in Washington gave him an elaborate cup, with an exchange of felicitous comment. prompted by the occasion and in celebration of the TRIAL OF THE GALVESTON.-The Secretary of the Navy has received a telegram from Captain Dayton, president of the Naval Board of Inspec-tion, in regard to the recent official trial/of the pro-tected cruiser Galveston off the coast of Massachusetts, as follows:

Galveston contract trial completed. Average speed for four hours, 16.45 knots. No immediate repairs or changes required.

The Galveston was partly built by the Trigg Iron Works, at Richmond, Va., and finished by the gov-Works, at Richmond, Va., and finished by the government at the Norfolk Navy Yard. She was required to make 18.50 knots, and as she fell only slightly below that requirement, there is no doubt of her acceptance by the government. She has been attached to the North Atlantic fieet. Captain Dayton's statement indicates that she is in condition to accompany Admiral Bigsbee's squadron to Trance to bring home the body of John Paul Jones.

Excursion Boats in Good Condition -Rules Rigidly Enforced.

Passengers by the excursion steamers running to Coney Island and other points yesterday for THE the first time this season, were pleased to note that the boats, life rafts, life preservers, in fact all the equipments for the safety of life and limb, were in the best condition. This was due to a rigid inspection resulting from an enforcement of the regulations promulgated since the Slocum disaster by the inspectors of steamboats and to the voluntary inspections made by the owners of the steamboats for their own protec-

Captain Ira Harris, Supervising Inspector of Steamboats for this port, when asked what extra precautions had been taken to safeguard the passengers on the excursion boats that went out for the first time on Memorial Day, said that the law had been rigidly enforced, and that the boats all over the harbor are in better that the boats all over the narror are in better condition now that they have ever been. The Dreamland, the Starin and the Iron Steamboats, he said, were in first class condition, and espe-cial attention has been paid to the electrical equipment, which has been inspected by com-petent men.

MAY SAVE MRS. ROGERS FROM DEATH.

Mrs. Blickensderfer's Efforts May Avert Extreme Penalty.

Stamford, Conn. May En.—Mrs. William J. Blickspacerfor was overjoyed this afternoon to hear that Governor Bell of Vermont had decided to grant a further reprieve of three weeks to allow counsel for Many Rogers to die a petition for a writ of error with a justice of the United States Supreme Count. "I expect to communicate with Mrs. Helen Bent and Mrs. Blake to-morrow," she said, "as it will be necessary to raise about 1500 of $1,000 more to carry through the fight. I believe we can do that easily in thirty days. We shall appeal to wealthy New-York personally. I shall appeal to wealthy New-York personally. I don't believe the law will allow that unfortunate creature to be killed."

Fails McCarthy, of Hoosick Falls, N. Y., who is a greet of Mr. and Mrs. Blickensderfer, was in the York to-day on business in connection with the Rogers case. He says the case will be carried through and seems confident of even saving Mrs. Rogers from death.

GOVERNOR BELL GRANTS REPRIEVE. ntpellen, Ve. May 81. Chief Justice Rowell, of State Supreme Court, to-day refused to grant the State Supreme Court, to-day refused to grant a writ of error in the case of Mrs. Mary M. Rogers, Governor Charles J. Bell, however, announced that would grant the woman another reprieve for a short time, in order that her attorney might have an opportunity to bring the matter before one of the justices of the United States Supreme
